FIRST MEETING OF NEW COUNCIL HELD

Various Committees of Council Appointed, and Solicitor Holds Clerk Comes Under Civil Service.

SERVICE DIRECTOR'S SALARY IS BOOSTED

Dr. L. P. Howell Chosen President Pro Tem.—Postponement of Selection of Clerk Made Until Ruling is Received—President Urges Promptness in Attending Meetings—Next Session Monday Night of Next Week.

The new council met Monday night and organized, after which some little time was devoted to other business. All members were present with the exception of James Whelpley, who is out of the city. The members present were: President Al Melvin, Dr. L. P. Howell, Clarke Rowe, Taylor Veall, Milton Tracey, Pete Tracey and William Sheets.

Mayor Coffey was present and administered the oath of office to President Melvin. Quite a number of visitors were present, including Congressman Post and M. S. Daugherty. All watched the proceedings with interest.

After the councilmen had been called to order and sworn in, the work of selecting a clerk was taken up, Member Sheets nominating J. J. Flynn. Member Pete Tracey nominated John McFadden. Solicitor Gregg was then asked what method to follow in the proceedings, and stated that he was of the opinion that the old clerk would continue to hold office, under the new Civil Service law. President Melvin expressed himself of the belief that such was not the case. Member Rowe then presented a newspaper clipping from a Columbus newspaper, in which it was stated that clerks of council would "hold over" under the new law. Solicitor Gregg stated that he had written to Attorney General Hogan for an opinion on the question. Sheets then withdrew his nomination and member Howell moved that selection of a clerk be postponed until the opinion is received from the attorney general. The motion carried.

The appointments of the various committees of council, as made by the president, was then read, as follows:

Ways and Means—Rowe, Pete Tracey and Whelpley.

Law and Ordinance—Howell, Sheets and Rowe.

Public Service—Sheets, Pete Tracey and Rowe.

Public Safety—Tracey, Tracey and Whelpley.

Franchise—Veall, Sheets and M. Tracey.

Claims—Whelpley, Howell and Veall.

Board of Health—Howell, Sheets and Rowe.

Annexation—M. Tracey, Veall and Pete Tracey.

President Melvin spoke of the work that was ahead of the various committees, after which the roll call was taken.

Member Howell was nominated for president pro tem., and the vote for him was unanimous.

The report of former City Auditor Pine was read and placed on file.

The report of the Cemetery Trustees was read, showing $1265.20 received during the past three months, and $1107.41 expended during the same time. A balance of $5,530.02 was reported. The report was placed on file, to be taken up at a joint meeting later.

The appropriation ordinance for the first six months of the year, was read, and the amounts were as follows: General fund, $1560; safety, $3100; health, $700; service fund, $10,770; library, $775. The ordinance was referred to the Ways and Means committee.

A communication from the Ohio Highway Advertising Company was read, asking for the privilege of placing waste paper receptacles on the various street corners, the receptacles to bear advertisements, and the words "Help Keep Our City Clean" to be placed on top of the receptacle. The Service committee will investigate the proposal.

Member Veall presented an ordi-

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH IN NEWARK HOTEL FIRE

By Associated Press.

Newark, Ohio, Jan. 6.—Five men are dead and three more or less seriously injured in an early morning fire which destroyed the lodging house and restaurant of Gus Kearns at Second and Railroad streets.

The dead are John Liggett, 40, porter, Gus Hogel, 30, laborer, Louis Stetzler, 44, laborer, Joseph McFarland, 40, painter and one yet unidentified. The injured are James Russell, hip broken, Ray Underwood, hands and arms cut, George Alberts, internally injured, and Arthur Grubb, night clerk, badly burned.

The fire was discovered at 2:30 this morning by policeman Goff, who aroused the night clerk and turned on the alarm. Grubb rushed up stairs to arouse the lodgers. When he returned the stairway of the second floor was a mass of flames. He rushed through the flames to the open air and was frightfully burned. Crazed by pain, he dashed out to the frozen streets and disappeared. Before the fire department reached the building, the fire had gained such headway that the floors fell in and it is feared that more bodies may be in the ruins.

All the dead were smothered to death and few of the bodies were badly burned. Liggett had succeeded in dressing himself and ran to a porch where he fell across the bannister and was dead when found. The other dead were found in their rooms partly clothed. Those who escaped were dressed only in their night clothes.

Night clerk Grubb was located at his home where he is laying unconscious. His condition is critical. He reached his home four hours after the fire, after wandering through the streets in a dazed condition and collapsed.

George Prior climbed from his window and crawled along a narrow ledge to a water pipe and slid down the pipe to the ground.

The building was a two-story frame with a brick addition in the rear. Gus Kearns, proprietor of the place was in Columbus and did not know of the fire until today. He was one of the 35 saloon keepers who were refused licenses last fall.

Practically all the stock of liquor had been removed from the building. The estimated loss is $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

CINCINNATI SCHOOL BOARD STARTS TEST

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, January 6.—City Solicitor Schoenle, of Cincinnati, acting for the new Board of Education, filed quo warranto proceedings in the Supreme court today to test the validity of the Jung small school board law. The board of education at Cincinnati has refused to concede the constitutionality of the law.

HARD FIGHT IS LOOMING AHEAD

Cincinnati, Ohio, January 6.—If all or any of the requests of the Players' Fraternity for revision of rules of organized baseball is to be granted by the National Baseball Commission, it will be only after a hard struggle. This developed at a joint meeting of the three bodies here today when the committee from the Fraternity was heard.

FORCE MORGAN TO DISGORGE MARTHA'S WILL

By Associated Press.

Fairfax, Virginia, January 6.—State Senator A. E. Thornton announced today that acting at the request of officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution he would ask the Virginia Legislature to authorize the attorney general to sue for the recovery of the will of Martha Washington, now in the private collection of J. P. Morgan, of New York. The will disappeared from the Fairfax court house near the Bull Run battlefield during the Civil war. After a search of nearly fifty years it was accidentally learned last year that the will was in Mr. Morgan's collection.

JUICY MELON CUT BY U.P.R.Y.

By Associated Press.

New York City, January 6.—The Executive Committee of the Union Pacific Railroad Company announced today that it would recommend the distribution among its stockholders of the B. & O. railroad stock owned by the company and valued at about $82,000,000, together with $300 per share in cash. Estimated at the present market price of the B. & O. stock, this is equivalent to an extra dividend of 33 per cent.

The Executive Committee will lay this recommendation before the Board of Directors which meets Thursday. It recommends also that if this distribution is carried into effect, the regular annual dividend be correspondingly reduced; that is, from ten per cent to eight per cent.

75 LABORERS DROWN IN THE FRAZER RIVER

By Associated Press.

Winnipeg, Manitoba, January 6.—Dashed to death on the rocks in the Frazer river in British Columbia, or swept to their doom by the swift current, was the fate of 75 laborers employed by the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, according to Angelo Pugliese, one of the 25 who managed to escape when the flatboat in which they were being transported across the Frazer river was wrecked on the rocks.

Pugliese reached Winnipeg today. He says that the 25 who escaped were all injured. The tragedy occurred in British Columbia west of Fort George. Pugliese says a change in the location of the work necessitated the crossing of the Frazer. The 100 laborers put away from shore in a frail craft which became unmanageable. It was dashed to pieces on a rock in the middle of the torrent.

FIVE MORE PICKED UP

By Associated Press.

New York City, Jan. 6.—Five of the missing twenty-seven of the crew of the oil tank steamer Oklahoma which broke in two off Sandy Hook early Sunday, were brought into port alive today. They were picked up in a lifeboat Sunday afternoon by the steamer Gregory after having been adrift in the bitter cold for six hours.

The rescue of these men and their story that six of their companions were lost accounts for twenty-two of the Oklahoma's crew of thirty-eight, eight having been rescued by the liner Bavaria and three found dead in a lifeboat by the Revenue Cutter Seneca.

The five brought in today confirmed the story that the great tankship parted amidships without warning. The weather was very stormy and enormous seas were breaking aboard when, with an agony of groans and creaks, the vessel buckled apparently suspended on two huge waves at stem and stern.

All the engine room force and those of the crew aft who were able, rushed to the decks. Two boats were gotten away. One was crammed full. This was presumably the boat in which the revenue cutter Seneca found three dead and none alive. The other boat is the one in which the five were picked up and contained eleven when it got away. Six drowned after the craft had repeatedly capsized.

When the five were finally taken aboard the Gregory their condition was pitiful. They knew nothing of Captain Gunter's fate until they reached New York and were surprised to learn that he and seven others had been saved by the Bavaria.

By Associated Press.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., January 6.—After a two hour conference today between Attorney General McReynolds and Chairman Howard Elliott, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, it is understood the New Haven will agree to reorganize to restore competition in transportation throughout New England. No official announcement was made, but Mr. Elliott will remain in Washington for several days, and it is believed may settle details of the plan.

UNITED STATES SENATOR BURTON IS IN THE CITY

Noted Politician From Cleveland
Here Feeling Political Pulse—Has Not Announced Candidacy for Re-election—Delivers Address at Local High School and Memorial Hall.

United States Senator Theodore Burton, of Cleveland, arrived in this city about 7 o'clock Monday night, after delivering an address before the Farmers' Institute at New Holland. He stopped at the Cherry hotel, where he was greeted by quite a number of local citizens during the evening.

Tuesday morning he held conferences with the Republican leaders in this city, and Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock delivered an address before some 500 pupils and teachers in the High school auditorium.

Senator Burton has been in this part of Ohio several days, mingling with Republican leaders and citizens in general. The real object of his mission, it is broadly hinted, is to ascertain the spirit that abounds regarding his candidacy for re-election to the position he now holds. He has refused to state whether or not he will be a candidate for re-election, but during an interview stated that he would not announce his decision until after his return to Washington.

He admitted that he was "looking over the political situation" in this part of the state. He had little to say regarding his presence, and said among other things that he had given little thought to the subject of entering the race for re-election.

Senator Burton expects to visit Hillsboro and other points before returning to Columbus where he is to preside over the Republican gathering there this week.

At the High school Tuesday afternoon he held the close attention of the pupils during a 40-minute talk in which he urged the pupils to specialize; to remember there was plenty of room at the top of the ladder; that there are great openings for engineers, electricians, chemists and students of political economy, and the like. He praised the press as a wielder of influence and pointed out the bright future in farming, and the great part the women play in the affairs of the world.

Senator Burton urged the pupils to not scatter their work, and after choosing their vocation, to work steadily toward making a success of the chosen work. "Don't get money mad" he urged. "Study good music. Read good literature, and most of all, read the Bible," he said.

"Don't express your opinion unless you know something about the subject on which you express it," said Senator Burton.

After the address he greeted each student personally, and afterwards was waited upon by a party of veterans, whom he greeted warmly.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYED THE LECTURE LAST NIGHT

Dr. George R. Stuart Talks on "Lop-Sided Folks" and Charmingly Entertains and Instructs Washington Lecture Course Patrons at Grace Church—Lecture Full of Wit, Humor and Philosophy.

"It was a great lecture." This is the general opinion of those who heard Dr. George R. Stuart, at Grace church Monday night, when he delivered his famous lecture on "Lop-Sided Folks," the entire lecture being filled with wit and humor and a rich philosophy that amused and instructed his auditors, and they felt the better for having spent the evening with the well known lecturer.

Few escaped the pointed thrusts which were so veiled in the lighter vein that they left no sting, but came as a message from a great teacher, showing how "lop-sided folks" may change their lopsidedness and become different and happier and be of more use to the world.

Dr. Stuart was introduced by Rev. Ross, who knew the famous lecturer in the sunny Southland. In explaining his subject, Dr. Stuart said in part:

"This does not deal with deformed people or those who have met with accidents. Those can all be remedied. In this brilliant age, it does not matter what our physical deformities may be they can all be rectified by science."

Continuing, Dr. Stuart said in part:

"Never was there a time when great thoughts of literature, speaking of music were in greater demand than today. Never was there a time in history that the really good things of life were so desired.

"God never made anything to make you cry. He made the parrot and the monkey. Like a father giving his children a toy, he made things for us to laugh at.

"I like folks who laugh and who can cry. I like tears of joy. I like tears of gratitude. Do you know of people that you can help and help and help without receiving any thanks for it. Gratitude is becoming such a lost virtue that when you ask a man what another man has against him, he will say, 'I don't know, I never did him a favor in my life.'

"Live today; It is the brightest and best part of your life. Give up the mile-a-minute race after the dollar, before you trip and end it all.

"There are few women today that can get on to a street car or into a buggy and do it decently. And why? Simply because a lot of old women in Paris, who are lost to all modesty, dictate the styles to our American women.

"Coming to religion," he said: "I am not in favor of the man who sings 'Glory to God, Hallelujah, I'm standing on the firm rock of Salvation,' and the business man behind him says, 'He's a liar, he's standing in the pair of shoes, he owes me for."

FARMER IS BADLY INJURED

Mr. Samuel Saylor, a widely known farmer, residing some two miles south of Bookwalter, in Jefferson township, is in a very serious condition as the result of a kick from a horse, which occurred a few days ago.

Mr. Saylor had just returned to his home from this city and was putting the horses in the barn for the night when a large gray mare deliberately kicked him, using both feet. The steel-shod hoofs struck him upon the hip and in the abdomen, with the result that he was dragged into his house in a semi-conscious condition, and has not yet been able to leave his bed.

He is being attended by a physician from Jeffersonville, and while his condition is very serious it is expected that he will soon be fully recovered, unless internal injuries prove more serious than now believed.

Mr. Saylor is well known in this city, and his friends here will regret to learn of his misfortune.

UNUSUAL CEREMONIES MARK CHRISTENING

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brown gave a beautiful christening party Monday afternoon, having their little daughter, Helen, baptized with the Greek ceremonies.

Twenty guests were present, including a number from Columbus.

Father Paul Valanski, a Greek priest, now in Columbus, performed the christening ceremonies. Mr. Peter Maher, a Greek confectioner, of Columbus, acted as god father.

After the christening, there was a supper, music and dancing.

This is the second time that a christening ceremony of the Greek church has been held here.

OPENING GUN IN CAMPAIGN WILL BOOM FORTH TONIGHT

Union Prayer Services at Baptist Church Mark the Real Start of Simultaneous Campaign to Spread Religion—Other Union Services Each Night This Week.

The opening gun in the Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign for Christ will be fired tonight. The scene will be the Baptist church. The address will be made by Rev. F. E. Ross of Grace M. E. church. The meeting will be a union service in which all of the churches of this city will unite, and it is expected that one of the most significant gospel meetings ever held in Washington will be the result.

The meeting this evening is the first in a series of union prayer services, extending through the week as an immediate introduction to the services of the evangelistic campaign, which begin Sunday evening in the various churches of the county. The preliminary preparation for the campaign, extending over a period of many weeks, and including on the staff of workers, the most prominent business and professional men of the county, is practically completed. All is in readiness for the launching of the crusade.

In many ways it is the most unique movement of this character ever launched by the churches of Fayette county. Its slogan, "Fayette County for Christ," already has been made more than empty words. It has set itself an ambitious goal, but it is seeking to reach it by a campaign not only of stirring religious services but of modern business efficiency. Never has a merchant planned a selling or advertising campaign for the exploitation of a new line of goods with more care or practical detail than has entered into this campaign for the bringing of a new spiritual vision to this county. A real business system has been practiced. The work of organization has been divided among a staff of committees, who have canvassed every phase of the problem presented. A house to house canvass of the homes of this city has been made for the purpose of collecting definite details of local religious conditions. A campaign of advertising has been undertaken for the purpose of emphasizing the crusade to every resident of the county. A general clearing house for information relative to the movement has been established at the Y. M. C. A. building. Telephones have been installed. A stenographer has been employed. A tabulated index system has been introduced, on which the name of every family in the city, its address, church membership, or religious preference have been recorded. And now the time has come for the formal launching of the crusade.

Several unique features are expected in the program at the Baptist church this evening. The musical feature will be emphasized. The singing will be under the leadership either of Mr. Babbitt, the well known gospel soloist and choir leader of Cincinnati, or Professor Reichel of the Northminster Presbyterian church of Columbus, who is to meet the board of the local Presbyterian church this evening with a view of taking charge of the campaign music in that church. Mr. Ross, the speaker of the program, will have a virile, practical message in the subject, "When, How and Why a Revival?" Every effort will be made to handle the crowd expected, but it is suggested that those desirous of good seats go as early as possible. The program will start at 7:30.

Other union services will be held throughout the week, and then the individual churches will open their revivals Sunday night.

It's going to be a dandy game, Y. M. C. A. vs. Chenoweths, so be there.

A contented man may be too lazy to kick.

Basketball tonight at Y. M. C. A., 8 o'clock.

FIRST MEETING OF NEW COUNCIL HELD

nance to increase the salary of the Service Director to $600. For several years it has been $200 per year.

The ordinance was read the first time. Member Sheets called attention to the need of rules for council and upon motion the President was empowered to name a committee on rules. He will announce the committee later.

Member Veal called attention to a bad sewer on Washington avenue, and the Service Director was instructed to investigate.

Some question then arose as to who is service director, Chas. Gerstner having been named by Mayor Coffey and C. E. Mark being the old service director.

Solicitor Gregg held that Mr. Mark is still the service director. It is said Mr. Gerstner will assume office after the second Monday in January.

Upon motion the Service committee and engineer were instructed to accompany the service director in examining the sewer.

The question of confirming the appointment of A. S. Glascock, as a member of the Board of Health, arose and after some discussion President Melvin stated that he was of the opinion that council had no right to confirm the appointment, and that the question would be dropped for the time being.

Member Sheets moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance increasing the service director's salary be read. When placed upon its passage, Rowe voted against the ordinance.

Veal then made a motion to adjourn until Monday night of next week, and adjournment was taken accordingly.

President Melvin urged the members to be present at the hour set so the meeting could open promptly.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT OHIO

By CHARLES E. CHIDESTER

SKIN OF T-CUMSEH INDIAN CHIEF MADE INTO RAZOR STROPS.

How would you like to sharpen your razor on a strip of skin from the body of a human being?

This, history says, is what Kentucky soldiers did after Tecumseh, one of the greatest Indian chiefs Ohio ever knew, had been killed, scalped and skinned.

British historians are authority for the statement. American writers do not say that the Redman met such a terrible fate but so heartily was he detested that it is altogether within the range of possibility.

Tecumseh was a Napoleon among the Indians. His name in English is "Shooting Star," which is appropriate for his career was meteoric. He was only 44 years old when killed.

He was born at Piqua in 1768, and, like Napoleon, showed skill in military tactics early in life. His companions acknowledged him as their leader, loved and respected him. At 17 he exhibited great prowess in attacking boats at Dayton, and henceforth his leadership of the braves was conceded. At the age of 20 he became a chief. For a time he lived in Indiana but later returned ed to Ohio. The King of England made him a brigadier-general in the British army as a reward for bravery in the battle of Magaqua.

In connection with the Perry centennial it is interesting to know that Tecumseh and his braves witnessed the battle of Lake Erie from the shores of Ohio. They heard the big guns rumbling across the waters.

When Perry took his ships and prizes to Put-in-Bay, the British General Proctor told Tecumseh, "My fleet has whipped the Americans."

Tecumseh was too sagacious to believe the statement. The British general was preparing to flee. "We must compare our father's conduct to a fat dog, that carries his tail on his back, and when affrighted, drops it between his legs and runs off," Tecumseh said in an oration a few days later.

Tecumseh entered the battle of the Thames shortly afterward, convincing the Americans that he would win and that he would be killed. Giving the war-cry he led his braves into battle. When his voice was no longer heard above the din, the battle ceased, and the braves were conceded. A pistol ball fired by Col. R. M. Johnson, of Kentucky, had killed him.

BIG LEAGUER IN CHILlicothe

Josh DeVore, celebrated outfielder of national reputation who is spending the winter with his parents in this city is another of the National League stars whom the Federals are after. Josh has been offered a three-year contract, calling for $15,000, one third to be paid cash down and the other $10,000 to be deposited in bank subject to his withdrawal, when services have been rendered.

DeVore was for several years with the New York Giants, and took part in the world's series against both Philadelphia and Boston. Last year McGraw traded him to Cincinnati and later he was transferred to Philadelphia, where he finished the season in left field.

The distribution goes automatically to all employees over 22 years of age, who comprise about 90 per cent of the total employees. All, from the official and expert down to the common laborer, will receive a share.

This plan has been adopted because Henry Ford, according to his statement, believes that the distribution of wealth between capital and labor is too uneven.

While Mr. Ford talked about the plan a crowd of men fought outside for employment at the big plant. "There," said Mr. Ford, pointing toward the struggling mass of humanity outside, "is one of the reasons we have adopted this plan. We want to give work to more men and so we have reduced the working day from nine hours on two shifts to eight hours and three shifts. The commonest laborer who sweeps the floor shall receive his $5 per day. We believe in making 25,000 men prosperous and contented rather than follow the plan of making a few slave drivers in our establishment multi-millionaires."

The women will not share in the distribution, but they will get substantial wage boosts instead.

The Ford Motor company is capitalized at $2,000,000. September 30, 1913, it showed assets of $35,033,919 and surplus of $28,124,173.

BIG AGRICULTURAL MEETING NEXT WEEK

The combined forces of agricultural activity in Ohio will unite and concentrate in a monster meeting to be held at the state capital, January 14-15. Every topic for discussion is intensely pertinent to the welfare of all citizens of the state.

Every speaker is an active force and director in shaping policies of state and national administration.

A special car will bring fifty or more people from Van Wert county. In one township of Putnam county twenty-five hog raisers pledged themselves at township meeting to come and assist in urging the United States government to help in the control and eradication of hog cholera.

Other communities are likewise becoming aroused. All farmer institutes will recess for two days next week, and officers and state instructors will go to Columbus. County Fair officers and directors, bankers, grain dealers, live stock men and fair exhibitors will attend. The heads of departments and field men of the Experiment Station, the officers and deputy wardens of the Fish and Game Division will be in evidence. Three hundred veterinarians will be in the city, officers of building and loan associations will participate in one of the discussions.

Moving pictures will feature the program.

LONDON'S REFUSE

Probably few people who cross Waterloo Bridge ever day are aware that on the south side of the Thames, almost alongside the bridge there are warehouses and wharfs which receive the contents of the city and West-end dust carts, and provide work for 7000 persons, including 140 men and women who pick out and grade the waste paper, rags, bottles, bones, iron metals, tins, rubber, string, and anything saleable or useful for manufacture. Engaged in the collection of the refuse are 100 horses and carts and 30 motor vehicles, representing 30,000 pounds. Over 40,000 loads of rubbish are removed every year from city premises, and over 30,000 loads of sweepings from the roadways. The destructor furnaces are kept going all the year round, and 20,000 cart loads of rubbish are annually destroyed. The residue is sold, and is used in parks and gardens for making paths, and no less than 1,000 pounds is realized every year from the city road sweepings.—Exchange.

The pith of his speech was contained in this paragraph:

"Now, we say in all friendship and sincerity to our great neighbor, Germany: If you will put off beginning to build your two ships for twelve months we will put off in absolute good faith the building of our four ships for exactly the same period."

If Great Britain and Germany took the lead, Mr. Churchill added, there was a good prospect of success in getting other powers to agree to a naval holiday, thus relieving the taxpayers of a burden of millions of dollars.

Mr. Churchill first advocated a naval holiday on March 26 when he was speaking in the house of commons on the naval estimates, but Germany did not accept his offer.

WOULD RELIEVE TAXPAYERS

Suggests That Germany and England Build No Vessels For One Year—Believes That Smaller Nations Would Follow Example of Greater Powers. Situation In Europe Is Now Clearing.

London.—Winston Churchill, the first lord of the admiralty, in behalf of the English government has made a specific offer to Germany of a year's "naval holiday," wherein both nations would agree to halt the construction of battleships.

Widespread interest was aroused by the proposal, and much significance is attached to the offer, which was made while he was discussing the naval expenditures of $375,000,000 a year and warning the nation of the inevitable heavy increase in armaments if the rivalry continued.

The pith of his speech was contained in this paragraph:

"Now, we say in all friendship and sincerity to our great neighbor, Germany: If you will put off beginning to build your two ships for twelve months we will put off in absolute good faith the building of our four ships for exactly the same period."

If Great Britain and Germany took the lead, Mr. Churchill added, there was a good prospect of success in getting other powers to agree to a naval holiday, thus relieving the taxpayers of a burden of millions of dollars.

The proposal I put forward in the name of the British government for a naval holiday is quite simple," he said. Now, we say to Germany, 'If you will put off beginning to build your two ships for twelve months we will put off in ab-the situation in Europe was much clearer now than it had been for some time, the strong evidences of a desire for peace and the greatly improved relations between Great Britain and Germany rendered the moment favorable for the resumption of the consideration of the suggestion of a naval holiday to which friendly reference was made in a speech by the German imperial chancellor.

REBELS FAIL AT OJINAGA

Marft, Tex., Jan. 6.—Major McNamee, commanding the United States army at Presidio, wires that the rebels have divided into three sections and are hurrying their army from Ojinaga.

Having failed after a week's assault to take the town, they are probably withdrawing for reinforcements and more food and to await the coming of Pancho Villa, their commander.

The disappearance of the rebels from the vicinity of Ojinaga followed the hardest fighting of the week's siege. Saturday night and Sunday afternoon the rebels made tremendous assaults upon the federal stronghold in a supreme effort to drive them out of their fortifications, using artillery, cavalry and infantry with terrible effect, but without dislodging the enemy.

General Inez Salazar of the federal command made a charge against the rebels when he discovered an opening in their ranks, and nearly demoralized them by getting between the two rebel wings. He captured several prisoners and executed them. This resulted in a withdrawal of the rebels and the assault was not renewed.

The rebel casualties have been heavier than those of the federals in the week's fighting, but the federals have lost more officers than the rebels. So far as known the total killed and wounded will not be over 600.

LOWER RATES OR PASS LAWS

Columbus, O., Jan. 6.—If insurance rates in Ohio are reduced by rating bureaus there will be no insurance legislation this winter, in line with the drastic report made by the Mooney investigating committee, but if rates are not reduced the report will be acted upon at once. This was the intimation from officials of the state administration. This consideration was said to explain the information that Governor Cox's first message to the legislature will not allude to insurance legislation. The Mooney committee was given practical assurance that rates would be reduced, and it was said the governor would wait to see if this was done, thinking if relief was furnished policy-holders the general revision of insurance rates could be delayed for a year.

MUSEUM READY FOR OPENING

On the eastern edge of the campus of the Ohio State University rises a new building of white stone, the new museum of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society, which is to house the Indian relics and treasures of the Mound Builders which make Ohio the richest field of prehistoric remains in the United States. With the first week of the New Year the collections were moved from their old home in Page Hall to their beautiful new building.

The structure itself is as nearly fireproof as man can make it, utilizing stone, steel and concrete, with no wood used in its construction. Almost all the furniture is made of steel and the entire library and offices are similarly built. The exhibition rooms are entirely of mahogany as steel cases are impracticable.

It is planned to have a formal opening in January, with appropriate exercises and public inspection of the rare collections housed in the building, appropriations for which was authorized at a recent session of the Legislature.

Professor G. Frederick Wright, of Oberlin is President of the Society and Professor W. C. Mills, of Columbus its curator.

SAVING THROUGH THE PARCEL POST

The prime factor in the increased cost of living is that the supply has not kept pace with the demand. But this supply could be immensely increased if the millions of bushels of fruits and vegetables that are left to rot on our farms could be marketed. Heretofore the cost of distribution in most cases has made it impossible to market this produce advantageously. Parcel post with its increased weight allowance to 20 pounds within the first and second zones, together with the low rate charged, is opening up new channels of business writes the editor of American Agriculturist.

Much produce that formerly could only be turned to in the local store at a low price in trade can now be sold at a good profit to the consumer. Many a farmers' wife or ambitious son or daughter is now building up a profitable mail order business in nearby towns or cities. It's an easy matter to get customers, while suitable shipping cartons can be readily obtained.

The great variety of things that may be included in these 20-pound shipments will enable the farmers to take advantage of the maximum weight allowance, while the city prices obtained will yield a handsome profit after deducting all expenses, including the postage charges. Get all the particulars of this parcel post plan from your local office and see if you can't build up a profitable business in disposing of your surplus produce.

"25 EARLY ENOUGH TO WED."

Grandmother, Thirty-two, Says It's a Sin to Let Children Marry.

Boston.—Mrs. John T. Russell of Malden, Mass., who has just passed her thirty-second birthday and is probably the youngest grandmother in this state, criticizes the early marriage law which allows persons under twenty-five years of age to wed.

"It is a sin," says Mrs. Russell, "to allow children to enter into the bonds of marriage when they are distinctly incompetent to raise children. About twenty-five years is the right age for young people to think of marriage. Then the young man has secured the foothold in his profession or business and is able to support a wife."

Mrs. Russell became a grandmother fourteen months ago, when her son, John Clifford Russell, seventeen years old, became a father. The son was married when fifteen years old and Mrs. Russell was married at sixteen.

Dazzled Reynard Fails to Look Out For the Cars.

HAND-BOOK ON RUSSIAN EMPIRE

The Russian Empire, covering one-seventh of the land area of the globe and only sparsely settled in spite of its nearly 170,000,000 inhabitants, offers an interesting subject for study for both business men and economists. This country today presents a picture of economic development comparable with that of the United States of three or four generations ago, in that Russia is now chiefly a producer of the raw materials derived from nature, such as grain, timber, hides, and minerals, and is just beginning to develop manufacturing industries of importance. Its exports are almost entirely food-stuffs and raw and semimanufactured products, while its imports nearly all of the higher grades of manufacture which its people require.

The total value of the foreign trade of European Russia, in 1912, according to official figures, was more than $1,200,000,000 in which the United States participated to the extent of only $53,000,000. However, the indirect trade between the two countries passing through foreign middlemen, brings the value of the sales of American products to Russia to $80,000,000, and the exports from Russia to the United States to $30,000,000. Largely owing to the lack of knowledge among American business men of the possibilities of the Russian market, the trade between the two countries is on the threshold only of its possible development. The monograph on Russia just published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Department of Commerce, entitled "Handbook on Russia," should therefore be of special interest.

This book contains nearly 200 pages, with two maps, and includes a comparative description of the economic situation in European Russia, by Consul General John H. Snodgrass, stationed at Moscow; reviews of the commerce of various districts in 1912, by the American consuls stationed in Russia; and a very timely description of commercial and industrial conditions in Siberia, by Consul John F. Jewell, stationed at Vladivostok. To those who still regard that country as a frozen waste, the picture presented by Mr. Jewell will be a revelation. He compares Siberia today with Canada of a generation ago, and points out the possibilities of great trade development that lie in the great natural resources of the country.

One of the interesting features of the January number will be an explanation of the dragging act, which becomes effective in January 1914. The provisions of the act require each board or township trustees to appoint one of their members as dragging superintendent, whose duty is to divide the township into dragging districts, of no more than six miles of road to each district, and to supervise the dragging of all the earth and gravel roads in such districts.

Contracts are required to be let for such work by February 15th of each year. The new law requires trustees to set apart funds for dragging purposes under penalty of fine for failure to do so. Fayette county roads will be given a thorough dragging.

The January bulletin will contain a copy of the road dragging act and a simple design of a durable road drag. A free copy of this bulletin will be mailed to any one interested who sends a post card request to James R. Marker, State Highway Commissioner, Columbus, Ohio.
